FREQUENCY OF CYCLES.

The season has been marked by a great number of cyclones and tornadoes in the valley of the Mississippi, and by their very destructive character. No speculation awaits to throw light upon these convulsions of the elements as to their cause, further than has been known for long periods.

Usually the most destructive cyclones occur in the late summer, and rarely so early in the year as has marked their appearance this spring. In this respect they are phenomenal. The storm of wind moves in immense whirls, and the path of the destroyer is usually but from two hundred to three hundred feet in width, but they have been known to sweep across a country with many miles of front. The center of the cyclone is calm, moving forward at a comparatively harmless rate. This class of storms originates outside the equatorial belt, between the tropics, and all cyclones move toward the poles. Thus, it will have been noticed, that in the reports of these destroyers the general tendency has been a northwardly movement. The rotation of the hemisphere is usually from left to right.

While the more violent of the wind-storms of the last few weeks have, so far as we can determine from the excited press reports, borne all the characteristics of cyclones, evidently not all have been such. The hurricane is capable of doing just as much damage, for the agitation of the atmosphere is frequently quite as violent in the hurricane as in the cyclone. The former is, however, a storm of development, while the latter is marked by greater suddenness. The cyclone continues on in its course, which is sometimes sinuous, but the hurricane turns and retraces its path not infrequently. The cyclone is of brief duration, and the premonitory indications are few, but they are many with the hurricane, and its duration may extend over many hours. The hurricane may blow without a special whirling motion or with it, but the cyclone is always violently rotary. The prevailing authority is that all severe wind storms are rotary, the former is as the latter, people occupies the correct position. On Saturday we printed extracts from his speech on the bill on its final call in the Common Council, and the selections will enable the reader to easily define the broad and tolerant position the Premier occupies, and in taking which history will justify him.

The San Francisco Bulletin believes that if we were rid of the Chinese, small-pox would disappear from amongst us. We are not informed of the cause of this opinion, but it is a fact, however, that the sun varies annually with the sun-spots, and it is to be inferred that the variations in solar heat produce a similar variation in terrestrial evaporation and an increased tendency to the formation of hurricanes.

The sun-spots observed in the past year have been unusually great and large, and the occurrence of these violent atmospheric disturbances would tend to establish still more firmly the Poey theory.

THE DUNN CASE.

The killing of Elliott, the bruiser, in Chicago, some months ago, was a brutal and indefensible murder, of peculiar atrocity. Elliott was the enemy of Dunn. Both were roughs, without whom society would be better off. Elliott was in a saloon dining. He was a near-sighted man, and as such at a disadvantage. Dunn entered the room and fired at him, did all the shooting that was done, and killed his enemy. He intended to kill with his first shot, and whether Elliott got out a pistol before the fight was over is a fact or not, makes little difference. A Chicago jury has acquitted Dunn, not because he is rich, for he is not; not because he is influential, for he is but a bully and prize-fighter, and is despised by decent men; but he was acquitted because he was surrounded by a gang of ruffians that is feared.

In Illinois the jury, unlike the practice in California, pass on the questions of law in a trial for murder, and that gives it full liberty to accept and cast the blame upon the law. It decided then that the law of Illinois is just what Dunn claimed in his defense, to wit, that if X threatens Y, and Y has knowledge of it, then Y, on sight, may pick X off, for it is simply a question of which shall get "the drop" on the other. It makes no difference evidently that X, who makes the threat, does not attempt to carry it out, nor that he is not in a threatening attitude when shot, nor that he does not shoot Y, but that in fact Y goes after him. It amounts to this, that Dunn verdict means anything that Y may "hurt" X simply for making the threat, and kill him immediately on sighting the game. Fortunately for humanity, the Dunn jury do not lay down the law of all the land.

NO FLOWERS.

A card of invitation received a day or two ago to attend the graduating exercises of a class in a young ladies' collegiate institute bore in the corner the words, "No flowers." They were suggestive of a reform that should have been made effective. The practice has been to make graduating class exercises too much of a show. The intellectual has been lost in display; the young woman who wears the richest robes and the most elaborate details, as well as the distinguished portraits are the Edwardians, the Misses Livingston, Joseph and Carson Cabine and Dunn, and the like.

Rossiter, Joseph Steedler, Jacob Sambach, George Schaefer, John Schaefer, back, William Shell, Mary Ellen Vanatta, Luke Wood, Anthony Wells, Elizabeth M. R. Webster, James H. Willis.

BASEBALL.—The Redington Baseball Club, of San Francisco, came up a few weeks ago, and were defeated by the Unions. This inspired the Hawleys, the champions of the coast, to try what virtue there was in the Unions. Sacramento's champion club was considerably elated over defeating the Redingtons, and it was considered a decided victory when the game was run the gauge with the coast's champion club. The match at Agricultural Park was witnessed by a large number of people. From the first it was evident that the game was to be a hard-hands full, but the game was played to the end and resulted in a score of 13 for the San Francisco club to 3 for the Unions. The winning club received two-thirds of the gate money.

TARGET PRACTICE.—Company G, Sarsfield Guard, held its regular semi-annual target practice at East Park yesterday. Following are the names of the men: Sergeant Plant 21, Lieutenant 20, Captain 20, Lieutenant Sheehan 20, private Hinch 10, Sergeant O'Rourke 15, Corporal McCarthy 18, Corporal Elia 18, Sergeant McNeill 18, Sergeant Flaherty 15, private Kuz 15, private Brennan 15, Captain Dalton 15, private A. H. 15, Captain O'Farrell 15, Captain 13, Sergeant Davis 12, private Shields 11, private Scallion 11, private Torney 9, Sergeant Davis 8, Corporal Heffernan 8, private Oliver 4, private Griff 6. The medals will be distributed this evening.

OPEN-AIR CONCERTS.—For the past two summer seasons open-air concerts have been held in this city at intervals during the four months of the summer of each year. There has been a source of much pleasure and enjoyment to the citizens of Sacramento, and have been a credit to the city. The First Artillery and the Huskar bands have each furnished their services at a much less compensation than their work. During the past two weeks there has been a great talk of reviving the concerts, but everybody appears to think that somebody else ought to take the active part in the matter. Will not some enterprising citizens take hold of the matter at once?

DEAD HORSES IN THE RIVER.—Yesterday about 1 o'clock two dead horses were observed floating down the Sacramento river. Farmers took two boats from the Washington side and towed the dead animals ashore. They were found to be harnessed and hitched together with neck-yokes and double-trees, as though they had broken loose from a wagon. The horses were found to be dead. The harness and other attachments were removed and are now at Homer Todhunter's saloon in Washington. No one knows where the team came from, but it was evident that they had been dead a short time.

THE METHODIST PICNIC.—Kingley Chapel, the Seventh and the Sixth-Sixth Methodists, churches, held their annual union picnic on Saturday evening. Mr. G. G. Gove, several others, about 1,000 persons, were present. The rain was in excellent condition after the recent rains, and the day was fine. Both young and old thoroughly enjoyed themselves in the game of golf, and the other entertainments received this city at 7 o'clock, much pleased with the day's recreation.

DEATH OF ED. MARSHAN.—Yesterday the fire bell tolled to announce the death of Edward Marshan, a former member of the fire department. He was a member of Young America No. 6, of the volunteer department, and also a member of the first paid hook and ladder company. Deceased was a native of Illinois, and a member of the First Reformed Church, who was in San Francisco, were telegraphed for yesterday, and arrived last evening. His remains will probably be taken to Elk Grove for interment.

MARSH BEFORE THE SUPREME COURT.—The Supreme Court heard the case of Marks, on habeas corpus, Saturday. Warden McComb and the prisoners were introduced and examined. The defense was represented by W. Anderson and S. Cohen, for respondent. S. Solon Hall argued the case for the prisoner, and A. L. Hale, court's counsel, was allowed two days to file a brief—the case to be submitted to the court.

SCHOOL VACATIONS.—At a special meeting of the Board of Education, held Saturday evening at the office of the City Superintendent, there were present Directors Slater, Stevens, Cooke, Goodhue and Tracy. An graded school No. 2 was granted a vacation of three weeks, and a vacation of the schools on the 15th and 16th, 25 and 26 days.

AN INVESTMENT.—The annual picnic of the Sacramento tribes, Improved Order of Red Men, will be held to-morrow at Natomas Grove, Folsom. This is the last season picnic, and the annual敷金 is to be held every other year. The officers of the Club are deserving of great credit for the admirable manner in which everything was managed. Two "jabs" were put up to receive money for the Indians, and the amount collected by the judges, the public and the pool-box protected, and as a rightfull punishment three men were ruled from the track.

TURF CLUB MEETING.—At 8 o'clock Saturday evening the Directors of the Turf Club of Sacramento held a business meeting in the reading-room of the Capital Hotel. Bills were audited, and allowed or ordered paid. Although the accounts were not made up, it was agreed to make a financial report thereon. It was announced that financially the meeting was a success.

BUSINESS CHANGE.—The partnership heretofore existing between S. A. Palmer and James C. Spreckels, changed. The firm names were retained, and a new name, S. A. Palmer and S. C. Spreckels, was adopted.
